gorning until late at night the park parning until late at night the park was through with young and old peous through the pleasure. At 11 o'clock pleasing the morning an excellent program in the morning an excellent program as rendered in the pavilion consisting of vocal and instrumental music, literary numbers. Hon, Moses Thatcher partor of the day and delivered. was enter of the day and delivered a very interesting oration on the travels very interesting of coming to Utah and of the Pioneers in coming to Utah and the great advancement which has the great advancement which has been made in this state. During the afternoon all kinds of games and outdoor ternoon were indulged in and a dance sports were indulged in and a dance was given in the pavilion, Many of the learner seekers also sought refuse. was sure seekers, also sought refuge where many spent the day in variyou kinds of pleasure.

gleawood Park was also visted by deawood Park was also visted by hunfreds of people on Ploneer Day, and many attractions at that place provided much pleasure for the crowd.

Miss Nellie Healy returned home wednesday from Yellowstone Park, where she has been pleasuring for the

One of the pleasurable events of the one or the bleasurable events of the week was the social given by the Hollander's association in the Fifth ward amusement hall Tuesday evening. An excellent musical and literary program was rendered in the early part of the evening, which was greatly enjoyed, after which the floor was cleared and all present indulged in tripping the ight fantastic until after midnight. Ice cream, cake and other refreshments were served. There was a large attendance of the Hollanders, who had a most pleasurable time. During the winter and spring the association has given a number of these socials. The proceeds derived therefrom will be used to help defray the expenses of the yearly extake place August 20th, at the Lagoon.
H. C. Bigelow has gone to Wyoming to spend a short time fishing and hunt-

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rhine, Mrs. G. F. Reynold and others have gone to Black's Fork, Wyoming on a month's

. . . Thursday evening Misses Sarah and Zina Larkin entertained at the pretty home No. 348 27th street, in honor of Miss Alice Roberts of Lehi. The even-ing was very delightfully spent in playing all kin is of games, and vocal music. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. Those present were Misses Clara Brown, Lizzie Lockhead, Bessle Holther, Lizzie Rockham, Lilias Lockhead, Lottle Brown, Emma Anderson, Alice Flowers, Etta Williams, Sarah Larkin, Miss Roberts, of Lehi, Zha Larkin, Miss Eardley and Theresa Wheeler, of Salt Lake; Messrs. George Lockhead, Arthur Anderson, Alice Larkin, Irvin Jones, Morris Flowers, Wint

Nephi Anderson, county superintend-ent of schools of Box Elder county, was visiting with relatives in Ogden

J. H. Last, of the firm of Jennings, Last & Thomas, left for the east Thursday morning to purchase the fall stock of goods for the store.

Miss Louie Freeman, of St. Johns, Arizona, has come to Ogden to continue

W. C. Weaver and wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ewart and family, of Minneapolis. left last evining for a month's outing in the Yellowstone Na-

Miss Fanie Roseman, of Washington, D. C., is visiting in Ogden with the tamiy of Willam Giddings.

Mrs. E. J. Ulrich and daughter Norma have gone to California on a month's

Mrs Driggs, wife of Prof. Driggs of his state school for the Deaf has gone to Brighton to spend a few weeks with Mrs John S. Corlew, of Ogden thing with friends in Salt Lake. Mss Fannie Hammond is spending few days in Salt Lake with friends

Mrs. John D. Corlew, of Ogden, is vitting with friends in Salt Lake.

Miss Fannie Hammond is spending tew days in Salt Lake with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoare and family, have returned to Brisbane, B. C., after a pleasant minths' visit in Ogden with G. H. Islaub and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wertheimer have returned to Ogden to spend a few weeks with their relatives before returning to their home in Arkansas.

CLUB CHAT.

The art committee of the General Federation of Women's clubs has is-sued its report for 1901-1902. It covers the field of women's work as architects.

BEAUTIFUL OGDEN HOMES.

RESIDENCE OF PATRICK HEALY.

The handsome residence of Patrick Healy is well reproduced in the above cut. The home is located at 2529 Jefferson avenue, one of the' shadiest and prettiest parts of the city. It was built in 1891, and remains today one of the most imposing residences of the state. The first story is built of pressed brick and red sandstone trimmings and the other stories are finished in fancy shingle work. The house contains eleven rooms, aside from the bath room, closets, etc. The interior is indeed very artistic and convenient withal. On entering the house one finds himself in a vestibule from which he enters a large hall. On the left hand are the spacious double parlors divided by a handsome arch made of solid oak. The large dining room is connected with the pariors with broad folding doors. At the rear of the dining room are the linen closet, kitchen and china closet. Every room on the first floor is finished in solid polished oak. Four elegant bedrooms occupy the second floor and their artistic effect is enhanced by the polished redwood in which they are finished. The third floor is used by Miss Nellie Healy for an art studio. The walls of nearly every room in the house are adorned by magnificent works of art painted by Miss Healy. She also has rare specimens of fancy needle work, china painting and water colors, which show the versatility of her fine talents. The home possesses all the modern conveniences and luxuries and is embellished with a generous air of hospitality.

in sculpture, glass mosaics, bookbinding, leather work, home weaving, arts and crafts of the Indian, ceramics. and crafts of the Indian, ceramics, photography, and painting, each report prepared by an expert. The report on home-weaving, by Mrs. Candace Wheeler of New York, outlines the promising possibilities of this industry. Says Mrs. Wheeler: "The encouragement and perfection of artistic, handwoven textiles would have an effect upon the happiness and prosperity of ndividual women and the commercial advancement of the country. There has never existed in the history of the world such a possibility of development world such a possibility of development of the domestic arts as exists today in America. On the one hand, a climate and soil adapted to the production of all fibre, including silk, and a race possessing great natural ingenuity, facility, and industry; and, on the other, a great body of educated, art-loving, federated women, perfectly equipped for the work, actively interested in art production and perfection, and willing for the work, actively interested in art production and perfection, and willing to give their attention to any useful public object." It is also stated in the report that a good beginning has already been made in various directions by individuals more or less well equipped for the work, but it is also bointed out that the combined action and powerful encouragement of woman's clubs. erful encouragement of women's clubs are needed to make a national feature of American domestic industries.

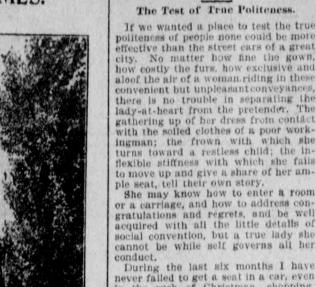

The Massachusetts State Federation has supported during the past year two legislative bills in the interest of wo-men, both of which have passed the legislature. One is to provide proba-tion officers for the higher court, and the other advocates a hearing for wo-men dissomaniacs before commitment to a higher court.

The National Society of New England Women has established registry head-quarters at the Pan-American Exposition, which from July 1 has been in charge of a clerk, who will engage, on order, at special rates and privileges agreed upon by the management and committee, rooms with or without board at hatels, boarding houses, or in private families, as desired, for all women of New England ancestry. Further information can be obtained by addressing Miss Grace Warren. New England States building, Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, New York.

The Colonial Dames of Virginia are chase the Temple farm near Yorktown for a national park, The farm is now the property of C. O. Maunk, a Virginian by descent, and it includes the Moore house used as headquarters by Washington, Lafayette, and Rocham-beau doing the siege of Yorktown. It was in this house that the articles of surrender were drawn up.

States was sent to market most of the cotton plantations of the country were east of the Mississippi. But now nearly one-half of the entire American crop of cotton comes from the territory west of the river.

The School of Housekeeping, founded by the Women's Educational and In dustrial Union of Boston, in its prospectus, just issued, for the year 1901 and 1902, offers an aditional course that should prove very valuable. This is a year of professional work, designed to lay reneral foundation for the professions of teacher of home economics, health engineer, and social servant, and also to offer to advanced students on also to offer to advanced students on portunity for research. While this course is not limited to college graduates, it is to college women with a requisite training in the physical and so cial sciences that it should make its first appeal. It is organized to form a practical foundation for students thoroughly trained in science, who are attracted to this new line of applied so-ciologic work. The home-makers course is designed to fit the needs of any college or high-school graduate who wishes to learn the practical methods and the underlying principles methods and the underlying principles involved in housekeeping and the making of a home. Some of the topics taken up in this course are "Municipal Sociology," "Methods and Results in Social Service," "Institutional Manarement, with Practice Work in Each Topic." The managers of th school include a number of prominent Boston women, headed by Mrs. Mary Morton Kehew, well known outside of New Worley, headed by Mrs. Mary Morton Kehew, well; known outside of New England for her board and generous philanthropy. Workers at the school have open to them, among others, the classes and courses of lectures of the Twentieth Century club and certain of he Lowell Institute courses.

FEMININE FLOTSAM.

If we wanted a place to test the true politeness of people none could be more effective than the street cars of a great city. No matter how fine the gown, how costly the furs, how exclusive and aloof the air of a woman riding in these convenient but unpleasant conveyances, there is no trouble in separating the lady-at-heart from the pretender. The lady-at-heart from the pretender. The gathering up of her dress from contact with the solled clothes of a poor work-ingman; the frown with which she turns toward a restless child; the inflexible stiffness with which she fails to move up and give a share of her amor a carriage, and how to address congratulations and regrets, and be well acquired with all the little details of social convention, but a true lady she cannot be while self governs all her

During the last six months I have never failed to get a seat in a car, even in the rush of Christmas shopping. When, by mistake, I entered a car al-ready full, some dear girl has always been ready to insist on my taking her seat as soon as she detected my gray hair. Often I am sure that I was the less tired of the two, but the gentle insistence of my young helpers would

I argue delightful things for the homes of such girls; no mother is left too burdened where they are; no fret-ful brother or sister is pushed away unamused; no reckless brother has an excuse to stay away because his "sister is so cross!"-Mrs. Clement Farley in Ledger Monthly.

White the Reigning Shade. It is the fashion this summer to wear white, and the smartest of all the frocks are of white mousseline de sole or There are, however, any number of dotted muslins in white, light gray, light yellow, or black that are made up for evening use. The so-called robe gowns are also in great de-mand, and are very useful, provided one has a well-fitting low waist and long skirt of silk over which the robe gown can be placed. The summer silks, not foulard, make charming low gowns for evening, while when the higher waists are desired the foulards come into play again. One of the smartest foulard gowns of the year is made of black and white foulard, a white ground with irregular black dots,--

Summer Stockings.

Fancy stockings in bright colors are one of the fashions of the season, as well as those of open-work liste and silk in all black and white, the shoes being cut low enough to show the design. The lace-striped stockings or the plain striped are the best in solld colors. In black there are a few designs with lace medallions which are exceedingly beautiful, but in the bright col-ors checks are more popular. The polka dots, white or black, are also among the new designs, and the new shade of blue is apparently as fashionable in stockings as in gowns. To wear with white gowns the fad is to have white stockings, but it is a fad that is not For many generations after the first bale of cotton raised in the United States was sould be under the first than in any other color. The shows are made with rounded toes and com-mon-sense heels, which, however, are much higher than they have been recently. This, of course, does not apply to the shoes worn for walking, golf, or bicycling. These still show the low, sensible heel. The slippers have very high heels and rather pointed toes .-Harper's Bazar.

Concerning Sleeves. Under-sleeves are still in favor, made of lace, chiffon, batiste, liberty silk-of any material different from the rest of the gown. They fit close to the arm or are in puffs, and some even are shirred; but none of them are ugly or exaggerated. The sleeve that stops just at the elbow, or a little below it, finished there with a turned-back cuff. is not nearly so popular as it has been, probably because it is usually unbecoming. It is much less graceful than coming. It is much less graceful than the sleeve that finishes below the elbow in a ruffle or flares in an exaggerated copy of the coat sleeve. Thin gowns look well with elbow sleeves, but one style that is fashionable is most unbecoming; this is the sleeve finished below the elbow with folds of muslin or silk and without ruffle or flare. It is one of the most trying styles ever or silk and without ruffle or flare. It is one of the most trying styles ever designed, and yet seems to have a firm hold on the affections of many women. An attractive sleeve which looks equally well made of silk, muslin, or cloth, is just a little larger than the arm, and reaches not quite to the wrist, where it is finished in squares, and shows underneath a full puff of the same material, gathered into a band. The reason this is so becoming is that The reason this is so becoming is that it has lines long enough to make the arm appear graceful.

Sunday-evening Suppers.

In warm weather a cold supper is often preferred to one that is hot, no matter how good the latter may be, and for this there may be something in the way of a meat-dish prepared the day before, such as a veal loaf. This is made by chopping three pounds of year with a quarter of a pound of said veal with a quarter of a pound of sait pork, mixed with a cup of bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt, another of onion juice, and half a teaspoonful of pepper. This is to be moulded into a loaf and baked two hours, with frequent bastings of melted butter and hot water. There is an English dish which Silas Wegg affected, known to him as a "weal and however," which budge its more disnihammer," which under its more digni-fied name of a yeal and ham pie is not to be overlooked in the search for appetizing dishes for supper. It is made by stewing equal parts of veal and ham with plenty of bones from the veal, until the meat is tender. Then it is cut in strips, laid in a deep baking dish in alternate layers, seasoned, and covered with the strained stock. A delicate crust is put on top and quickly baked, and the pie set away to cool, when I will be found that the stock has jellied and the meat is embedded in an aspic. It is to be cut just as a ple is cut, and will be found the pleasantest sort of a change from the usual thing.—Harper's

How to Lift the Skirt Gracefully. American women have much to learn

American women have much to learn in the matter of raising the skirt, and the lesson could be best taught by their French cousins. To begin with, the French woman wears short petticoats, hardly below the boot tops. American skirts barely escape the floor, and are bound to catch whatever dust and dirt are lying about, and, of course, deposit it upon the shoes.

It upon the shoes.

French women grasp, firmly and easily, the folds of the skirt at the back in such fashion that the drapery is gracefully lifted at the sides as well as at the back, and without calling undue attention to the lines of the figure. In this way skirt, petticoat and shoes are all kept clean, and furnish a strong reason for the unkindness bestowed by French women upon the short walking skirt. When they need the effect of draperies, they can have it by merely dropping the folds of the skirt.

Girlhood's Friendshps. A friend—a real, true, good friend who chares one's joys and sorrows, bears with one's good or evil humor, loves one despite one's faults and, perhaps, even the better for them-who has not dreamed of such a friend? But how few there be that find them! This would seem particularly the case with women in contradistinction to men and in an aggravated degree

A girl's friendship for another would seem, as a rule, to be of a butterfly order of things-they fly into friendship with outspread wings and encircling arms, with kisses, with "dearest" "darling" interspersing their conver-sation and daily letters of many pages long helping to break the weary post-man's back. And then comes "the little rift within the lute which by and by shall make the music mute," and the friendship, ripens before its time, dies a sudden death, not even repelled by the two who erstwhile so enjoyed it.

Therefore it behooves a girl before making a friend to pause and consider for some short time at least before be-coming "absolutely devoted" to her and to think twice before she tells the girl she met yesterday in the house where she is staying all her inmost secrets. To say the least, the habit is unwise and, like all playing with matters great and good, will perhaps prevent her knowing a real friend when she loes come across

A woman's real friends, whether they be men or women, are, as a rule, made later than girlhood. Happy is the woman who possesses such a treasure as a true friend. Knowing and understand ing the value of what she has found, she will never strain at the tie if she be wise; she will never be jealous or exacting, but, trusting ever, will be for-

Not to be Eccentric.

Eccentric people are never normal; you have no need to be either "queer" or unpleasing to the eyes of your friends in order to carry out your own convictions as to what is preferable and what is wise in what you do or wear; you only want to take a little more pains, to keep from critical comment from any sensible person, and to be quite ready to let the other pass.

A young girl in a great shop who had gained the nickname of "Patty Prim," ecause of her rigidly-plain gowns, as tonished her comrades one morning last summer by coming to the help of some of the Cuban teachers who were visiting in Boston. The unfortunate foreigners could not make known their wants intelligibly, and were much dis-tressed. "Patty Prim," who was standing near, addressed them timidly in very good Spanish. The eager joy of the wouldbe purchasers was great, for they were in search only of necessary things. A"floorwalker" listened with surprise to the easy conversation of the young saleswoman and reported the incident to the superintendent. With doubled salary, henceforth "Patty was made interpreter, and proved that also know enough French to help in that language.
Gradually her comrades discovered that all the money she could possibly save had been used to buy the neces-sary and always-expensive foreign textbooks and in paying for tuition. the harvest she gains from following out her own steadfast purposes is the rent of a lovely little home for her family and the support of her pet broent Farley in Ledger Monthly.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache, Only 25c at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

A DREAM OF A BOA.

These beautiful creations for midsummer wear are trifles light as air. They are made of kilted white chiffon whose edges are defined by the merest thread of black velvet baby ribbon. Long streamers of wide black velvet ribbon, knotted at intervals, and headed by large soft Jack roses, complete the charming effect of these latest of fashions darlings. The gow which this bea is worn is a tan canvas tucked and trimmed with bands of

(Store Closes Saturday Evenings at 6 P. M.)

UP TO 50c WASH FABRICS—12½ CENTS.

The finest picking of the season in wash goods will greet you Monday morning. Stock cleaning, with the usual price squeezing comes regularly at the big store and this week will fall none behind in generosity of bargains. The goods we have selected for this selling are all of this season's purchase, qualities and styles, abreast with the usual high standard. They are such goods as these: 25c imported dimities, 30c printed crepons, 50c printed organdies, 25c Dotted batists, 20c printed batistes

FANCY SOCK SNAPS.

A snap of very uncommon finding in men's fancy half hose has just come to us from our New York buyer About 100 dozen in the lot, showing plaids, stripes, polka dots, open work, silk embroidery effects, etc.-not so thin and fragile that quality is sacrificed for style, but possessing the good wearing traits of plain old fashioned sox. They're luxuries at the price of necessities, for nowhere have they been sold for less than 50c but for this prearranged

SEE WINDOW.

Hosiery and Underwear Specials ?

Ladies' fancy blue and white scriphose, very sheer with lace 40c effects, 60c regular......

Ladies' lace trimmed vests, Swiss ve, low neck and no sleeve; the kinds 50c

Ladies' white Swiss lisle thread union suits, low neck and sleeveless, $1.00 $1.25 to $2.75 values.................

Cushion Covers, 35c

tle profit to us when we sell them to you. They were bought with the low price feature in view, so for 35c

SEE WINDOW.

New Tapestry

MEN'S UNDERWEAR SPECIALS

Men's fine silkene underwear of a weave which renders them particularly cool, in pink, blue and cream with neat stripe effect, worth $1.25-Monday

PICTURE AND WRITING PAPER SPECIAL.

Medalion pictures of Authors, Composers and Fancy Pictures which foremerly sold for 15c each 7c

Medalion pictures mounted in plush selling always at 10c.:

Hurlbuts Royal Berlin writing paper (and Hurlbuts is best), extra find quality in gray and white only, sold formerly at 50c quire—special for the week, including package of envelopes....

JEWELRY ABOUT HALF PRICE AND LESS.

An odd lot of gold filled broaches in broad variety of styles, which formerly sold for 25c and 50c-to close out for

Fancy stick pins in many shapes and kinds, bought for 15c and 25c, selling, your choice for

Boys' and Children's

With ample color and pattern assortment we have bunched together the washable kinds of boys and children's kilt suits, sailor suits and Russian blouse suits. The sizes are 21/2 to 8 years. During Monday and week the kinds up to 75c

Ladies' Walking

Wash Suits Much

Underpriced.

Bargains in Carpets and Upholstery Section.

BAMBOO PORCH BLINDS HALF

STRAW MATTING REDUCED. A few rolls of fresh moist matting to close

HAMMOCKS REDUCED. A few hammocks left over from the summer selling, but plenty of use for them yet. The 75c ones, 55c, and the 90c

Skirts-$2.95.

A generous assortment of new tapestry cushion covers in oriental and conventional designs, with blue, green and red colorings. No price profit to the maker when he soid us these, and little profit to us when we sell than

Walker Brothers Bry Goods Co.

HANNA AWAITS BIG BILL.

